

I am against cuts to the Brigade of Gurkhas

Part of the British Army for nearly 200 years, the highly effective and loyal Brigade of Gurkhas based in Folkestone in Kent could be one of several UK based regiments sacrificed because of a Coalition Government dispute about defence funding. In order to show the Government there is significant opposition to this approach please add your support by adding your name to the petition against the proposal below. Thank you for your support.

Name	Date	Postcode	Email Address (Optional)